GUARD REVIEW AT-TRACTS THOUSANDS

GOV. GREEN REVIEWS TROOPS. SENATOR VANDENBERG GIVES MEM. ADDRESS

They came from every direction, Sunday, to attend the annual review of Michigan National Guard, at Camp Grayling as the several organizations passed before Governor Green and Major Gen. Wilson and other reviewing officers. With bands playing and flags and banners flying each regimental company looked its best as they passed the reviewing station.

Autos lined the highways about the parade grounds three deep and everywhere about the mammoth camp grounds cars were parked, as their occupants found favorable positions for looking on.

For an hour before the review was to start, organizations were busy taking their respective stations. And last came Gov. Green and Gen. Wilson and staff mounted who first approached an auto in which rode Mrs. R. Hanson and her family where both the Governor and General greeted Mrs. Hanson and told her they were glad to have her present. The late Mr. Hanson had always been a conspicuous figure at the reviews during all the past years the Guard has been coming to Grayling. Mrs. Hanson had never before witnessed a review and at the personal invitation of Gen. Wilson, was present that day.

Our chief executive and Gen. Wilson were applauded as they passed along before the huge crowd that lined the field. They rode around the field inspecting each department, returning the salutes of the officers and men.

After the regiments passed the reviewing officers, they left the field in double time, returning to their headquarters. It took longer than an hour for all to pass and everything went off orderly and without confusion. The absence of Michigan's crack cavalry regiment was greatly noticed by the crowd. This organization completed their training a week earlier than usual and had returned to their home stations. However to conclude the exhibit, three airplanes of Michigan National Guard Air Service came across the field, flying low, after which the airman gave an exhibition of sensational flying that greatly thrilled the vast crowd.

Visit Flying Field
After the review many visited the flying field north of town. Hundreds of autos parked about the roadways. To entertain the crowd Major Evans and others of his flying corps took flights and did a number of loop-the-loops, nose dives and whirled and other stunts to the amazement of the crowd. Also Sergt. Barr and Corp. Nicholson did some very thrilling and clever parachute drops. Two planes belonging to the Foster Airways, Lansing, were kept busy taking up passengers, and a series of men, women and children were privileged to view the landscape from the clouds.

On Monday the Guard began a two-day "war time" maneuver. The officers and men packed their kits and hied to the wilderness and other strategic places, prepared to stay out all night. The Guard was divided into two parties—the blues and the reds. The Tuesday night edition of the Detroit News gave an account of the maneuver, and it read as follows:

At noon the guardsmen quit the road for the shade of pines and oaks along the way. They hungrily munched sandwiches and found pleasure in coffee, although the day was hot. Then for a half hour they dozed on the ground.

An order came to enter the woods to the right, and the infantry cut across the second growth timber, unpenetrated since the overnight hikes of last August. Late in the day the advance guard sighted hostile troops near the Three Sister Range of hills south of Portage Lake. The troops were ordered to reconnoiter. In preparation for the bivouac, shelter tents were pitched and field kitchens set up. At 6 p. m. the infantry, strung along a mile front, partook of a steaming hot mess. Horses were watered and fed, guns and ammunition inspected and camp well in order before darkness came.

To the rear camped the 182nd Heavy Artillery, of Detroit, in command of Col. Heinrich A. Pickert, with its full complement of heavy guns, and the 119th Light Artillery.

To Attack Today
At 4:40 a. m. today, the infantry was to go into attack against the enemy. While the tape strung between stakes was to indicate hostile trenches, and stumps and pipes machine gun nests.

Howitzer companies were to storm these positions with trench mortars and 37 mm. guns while the artillery was to fire over the heads of the guardsmen into a restricted area. Planes of the air service were to circle overhead, observe the battle and drop messages.

Attached to each platoon of infantry was to be an ambulance, with a driver and orderly to carry the "wounded" in stretchers to the ambulances, and thence to the field hospitals.

The war problem, the most difficult ever attempted by the Michigan National Guard, was to teach the troops to execute orders quickly and efficiently. Guard officials, in the role of judges, were to observe the battle from the enemy lines and formulate situations for the troops to solve.

The Guard will conclude their training for this summer tomorrow—Friday, when most of the organizations will leave for their home stations.

Throughout the camp the weather has been very good. The days have been a little warm at times, but the cool nights stimulated sound sleep with the result that the men had plenty of hard work and plenty of rest.

Distinguished Officers Visit Camp
Several distinguished federal officials visited camp during the week. Among them were Capt. Phillips and Sgt. King of the Militia Bureau, Washington, D. C., who made a non-stop flight from Bolling Field (Washington) to Grayling airport, making the trip in four hours.

These officers were on an inspection tour of all National Guard air service camps. They remained in Grayling two days and said they were well pleased with this airport and said they wished Detroit had one as good. They camped a Douglas O-2H airplane, which requires a larger field for landing than any other in the army service. They had plenty of room for landing and lots of room left. Also an abundance for taking off. Capt. Phillips and Sergt. King left here at 7:00 o'clock a. m. Sunday morning for Mobile, Alabama, via Cincinnati.

Governor and Senator Visit Camp
Gov. Fred W. Green of Lansing and U. S. Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Grand Rapids and Washington, arrived in camp Saturday. They received a most cordial welcome. In the evening a ball was given in the officers club house in honor of the Governor at which time His Honor and Senator Vandenberg were in the receiving line. On the following morning the visitors were escorted about the camp. At 10:00 a. m. Senator Vandenberg gave the address at the memorial services in memory of the men of the Michigan division of the World war, who had lost their lives.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

On Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. David LaMotte renewed their pledge of loyalty to each other at the altar of St. Mary's church before Rev. Fr. J. L. Culligan, and in the presence of hosts of relatives and friends, as on that day they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The bride and groom, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dolphus Sancier, and their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaMotte and their grand-daughter Yvonne Sancier acted as bearers. Mrs. LaMotte was lovely in a gown of lavender crepe de chene with hat to match, while Mrs. LaMotte, Jr., wore a gown of orchid crepe and Mrs. Sancier a gown of pea green crepe with hats to match.

It was a very pretty ceremony and Fr. Culligan in his sermon spoke words of beautiful tribute to this bride and groom who have braved the ups and downs of life all these years and are still smiling.

Following the service Mr. and Mrs. LaMotte entertained a large number of relatives at their home who remained with the old folks throughout the day, during which a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed.

Mrs. LaMotte was formerly Elsie Lovell, eldest daughter of Peter and Phyllis Lovell, who will be remembered by many of the older residents here. She was born at Thurzo Canada, Province of Quebec on June 21, 1857 and Mr. LaMotte was also born in Thurzo, on May 23, 1858. Here in the same place they were married by Rev. Fr. King in the little Catholic church. After a couple of years they left Canada for Bay City where they lived for nine years and then to Bentley, where they engaged in farming and remained for two years. In the fall of 1890 they came to Grayling where they have since resided. To the union ten children were born, four of whom died in their infancy, Paul, Emma, Rosie and Mary, while six children survive. Those remaining are: Eva, now Mrs. Sancier, Frank, Jerry, Isaac, John and Walter.

In the early days Mr. LaMotte worked for jobs in the woods, which was where lumbering was in full swing in these parts continuing this work for 18 years. In his late years he had been employed by the Michigan Central railroad. Both are hale and hearty and enjoying life to its fullest, happy in each other's companionship and as loyal and devoted to each other as the day they first made their marriage vows just 60 years ago. It is a beautiful event in their life and Mr. and Mrs. LaMotte have the best wishes of the people of this community of which they have been residents for the past 38 years, that they may live to enjoy one another many more years. Besides being the parents of ten children they have 14 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Just recently Mr. and Mrs. LaMotte purchased the George Land house on Spruce street, where they are nicely domiciled and where they expect to spend the remainder of their days and those from out of town in attendance at the celebration included: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Foy of Garden Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaMotte daughters Maggie and Marie and son Donny, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pentrack, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dionne and son Francis, Messrs. Edward and George Dionne, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac LaMotte and daughter Betty, Mrs. John T. Vaughn, all of Detroit; Mrs. Mary Lovell, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Sancier and family, Cheboygan, who together with the many relatives in Grayling made up a large gathering.

SUMMER FESTIVITIES FOR YOUNG AND OLD

T. W. Hanson and Miss Virginia and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hanson and Misses Margrethe and Ella entertained a large number of friends at a dancing party Monday evening. The affair was given at Colleen's pavilion with the Red Stripes playing. Both the informality and the general liveliness of the crowd made the dancing a pleasure and everyone had a most enjoyable time. Light refreshments were served at midnight. Besides the Grayling guests there were a number from out of town, some of them coming especially for the party.

For the pleasure of William Overbeck, house guest of her son, Esbern Hanson, Jr., Mrs. Esbern Hanson entertained twelve couples at dinner Saturday evening. The great quantity of flowers which graced both home and dining hall made attractive decoration for the affair. Later in the evening the party attended the Governor's ball at the Officers Club house, Camp Grayling. The out-of-town guests were: William Overbeck, Evanston, Ill.; Donna Burden, Betty Kendall, Julius Pochelon, Albert Pochelon, Emma Louise Pochelon, Oscar Marx, Robert Rains, Nels Michelson and Frank Michelson, all of Detroit; Helen Westcott of Ypsilanti, and Mary Kathryn Cullen and Mary Branigan of Chicago.

NEW BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The new books have just come and I am leaving but hope they will be enjoyed by all. In the past year there were 6,321 books and 373 magazines borrowed from the library. Also from Jan. 21, 1928 to March 31, 1928 we had a story hour for the children. The stories were told by Mrs. C. C. Gohro who certainly knew how to tell them. During this time 179 children attended, all eager for more and were sorry when we had to discontinue the hour. Some times they would ask for the same stories several times.

The following is a list of stories told at this time: "How the Camel got his hump", "The Elephant's Child", "Tom Thumb", "Kind and Clutch", "Raggy Man", "Hawthorne's Child", "Camel and the Jackal", "Wishing Man", "Night Wind", "Hawthorne's Sailing", "Story of Benjamin", "The Owl's answer to Tommy", "An Apple Orchard in the Spring", "Story of Moses", "The Time that will come again", "Blunder", "Story of Pretty Goldilocks", "Farm Yard Song", "A Boy's Song", "Ruth the Gleaner", "Jack the Giant Killer", "The Brown Thrush", "Rock-a-bye Lady", "The Happy Prince", "Pied Piper", "Snow White and Red Rose", "Toads and Diamonds", "Joseph the Dreamer", "Thumelina", "Mother Holle", "Little Jackals and Lion", "Three Piggy Wigs", "Giant of Hand-beggars Hall", "Dutch Lullaby", "Magic Apple", and "Fairies Gold".

THURSDAY, AUG. 16, 1928

TWO things should be done to make driving safe on the lake road. One is that white fences should be placed at the sides of the highway between the bridge and the beginning of the narrow roadway toward town. The great danger comes when cars pass in the night and drivers become blinded by the lights from approaching cars. Even when both cars dim their lights, there is still danger of running off the bank into the soft muck at the sides. It requires the most careful driving at that place, but the best of drivers have to meet others who fail to take reasonable precautions. We believe the Highway Department would readily provide this safety measure if they understood the conditions.

Another very unsafe condition is at the railroad crossing, especially during the season of the year when the National Guards are in camp and the traffic is heavy. Electric flash lights at the crossing warn of approaching trains on the main track, but there are seven side tracks at that place where anyone, not familiar with the situation, would not understand the danger from approaching trains on the sidings. This would be especially true in cases where trains are backing up and there are no lights on the rear cars. A watchman should be placed at that point at all hours of the day and night when there are trains operating on the sidings. Only last week an auto was struck by a backing train at that crossing. Unless provisions are made for making that crossing safe we apprehend that serious accidents will follow. Autos can be repaired and replaced but human lives may have to pay the penalty of neglect to make that crossing safe.

HE WHO GETS SLAPPED

What might be called a new version of "He Who Gets Slapped" has as its principal Mr. John J. Raskob of Delaware, who undertook to hold jointly the chairmanship of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation and the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee. His former business associates have given him definitely to understand that politics and business do not mix, so far as General Motors is concerned. Following certain intimations to that effect from high officials of the company, Mr. Raskob resigned the chairmanship of the finance committee.

SOME NEGLECTED ROADS

A two weeks trip into Northern Michigan reveals that the roads in general are very good. Two notable exceptions stand out. The trunk line, U. S. 27 through the center of the state from Houghton Lake north as far as Frederic was in terrible condition. Heavy traffic and equally heavy rains made it the worst road we have travelled in years. It was rutted deeply and any speed in excess of 20 miles per hour was dangerous. Lack of proper maintenance seems to have been the trouble as the evidence was excellent. This road is the main artery for Eastern and Central Michigan to the Straits and ought to be a good road. The state highway department has fallen down seriously through Roscommon and Grayling and worst of all the state military encampment was in progress in the latter city, drawing thousands who had to travel this road.

Another road which needs attention immediately is the trunk line from St. Ignace to the Soo. This road is now being paved for a short distance north of St. Ignace but it needs miles of additional concrete to make it a fitting road to the great Lock city. This is one of the important gateways to the Upper Peninsula, and it seems strange that it has been neglected so long.—Dowagiac Daily

Many people attended the lawn social given by the Woman's Home Missionary society of Michigan Memorial church on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Victor Smith last evening. The refreshments were delicious and the ladies enriched their treasury by a nice little sum. A band of little folks put on a program of singing and dancing and kept the crowd in a happy mood while they were seated at the tables. The lawn was lighted by Jack o' lanterns and the tables decorated with baskets of garden flowers.

Large crowds enjoyed the band concerts given at the band stand on the court house lawn, one of which took place Monday evening and the other last evening. On Monday the 107th Medical Company band gave a fine concert and presented one of their men who delighted the crowd with many well rendered selections. The 119th Hospital Company's concert last night drew out a big crowd of people and from the applause given each number it was plain to be seen that it was being enjoyed immensely. Following the concert both bands were entertained with lunch and smoker at the Board of Trade rooms, complimentary of the Board of Trade.

Mr. Smith could always be depended upon to do his part in public service work and has served competently on many of our most important committees. Mrs. Smith has enjoyed a large class in piano and violin instruction, and for the most time conducted the High school orchestra. Socially Mr. and Mrs. Smith have a large circle of warm friends who wish them well in their new field.

OAKS REUNION

The seventh annual reunion of the Oaks family, which is represented in Grayling by Mrs. F. R. Deckrow and family, was held Saturday at Conine's Grove on the AuSable.

Friday afternoon saw the first arrivals with tents and camping outfits and a pleasant evening was spent in the grove. Many came Saturday morning and by the time the long tables were made ready and heavily laden 88 members of the family were present, coming from Flint, Lansing, Burt, Flushing and Sunnyside.

The day was ideal and from the oak trees, in lieu of acorns, bunches of bananas were suspended, a sure attraction for the children. The table was centered with a very attractive cake upholding seventy-six candles, in honor of the seventy-sixth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Floyd Penoyer of Flushing, who also received a birthday present from the "family" as did Mr. Gilmor Sparks of Flint whose birthday it was. Mr. Penoyer received the prize that is given each year to the oldest Oaks present. Arthur Sparks and Arthur St. Dennis, each nine months, received prizes for being the youngest present. At the end of the very enjoyable dinner a business meeting was held, minutes of the last meeting was read and new officers chosen. Letters from Mrs. H. P. Mortenson of Morgan, Minnesota and Mrs. Carry C. Danielson of Woodburn, Oregon, were read. Floyd Penoyer was elected President and Hugh Oaks Vice President.

The entertainment committee, Mrs. Deckrow, John Stephan and John Deckrow, then took charge and contests and races were enjoyed by all. Liberal prizes being given to the winners. All entered into the spirit of having a good time and when balloons and all day suckers were passed to the "children" there were found to be no old people present.

This is the first time the reunion has been held here and that it was a success was evidenced by the fact that it was unanimously voted to return next year. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Oaks, former Grayling residents, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oaks and daughters Dorothy and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. John West and two small sons, and Ralph Oaks arrived Friday, enjoyed brief visits with old friends and left Saturday evening for Indian River to visit Mrs. Oaks' brother, Forrest Wilcox. Oscar Deckrow of Flint visited with his family who are spending the summer here.

Others remained until Sunday and the reunion was not really over until the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Oaks of Sunnyside who remained until Tuesday to rest and visit.

VARIOUS PLANS TO STEAL TIME AND MONEY FROM THE UNWARY

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash.

The pilgrimage to the motion picture centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Mr. Slick and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag
Twenty-four "estates" representing 5 1/2 billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shyster lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.
Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

The Pilgrimage to the Movies

heavy loss to them have been worked under the following names:

Isabel Stone
From the Pennsylvania state executive mansion to a sunken barge, is the sad story of the Misses Isabel and Peggy Stone, daughters of the late Gov. William M. A. Stone of Pennsylvania. From a fortune of millions, from art and opera and sculpture, from the best drawing rooms in the nation, to a dingy derelict barge anchored in the muddy waters of Sherman creek, near 41 Dyckman street, New York. When Governor Stone died, it was said he left a large estate. When settlement of the estate was made, the girls were given only $3,000. They are still fighting for the mysteriously vanished millions, but they have little hope. Isabel appeared in several Broadway productions before her present poverty was known to herself. Now that she needs a job, it is not forthcoming. However, she manages to support herself and sister, Peggy, who is a sculptress, by singing over the radio weekly, and by infrequent work in night clubs.

BAY CITY PAPER ISSUES BIG NUMBER
(By E. M. T. Service)
The Bay City Democrat, a weekly newspaper, with a long record of constructive achievement behind it, recently issued an anniversary edition. The edition was a credit to the publisher, George Washington, and his staff.
Incidentally, a reference was made to the East Michigan Tourist association and the North Eastern Michigan Development bureau. A reproduction of a photograph of the log cabin offices of the two organizations was used.

GUN FIRE SHATTERS WINDOWS AND DRIVES AWAY WHALES
According to a New Bulletin received from the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, the United States Battle Fleet will hold their gunnery exercises in new areas this year. The new areas assigned will take the fleet out some 100 miles from the California coast. At this distance all complaints from the coastal cities, who claim that the gun-fire has shattered windows, are expected to be brought to an end. The change from San Clemente Island, where the drills were previously held, is also expected to overcome the objections of a whaling firm, which claims that gun-fire last year drove away the whales.

Shortcake for 4,000 Persons

Here is the largest strawberry shortcake in the world, which measured 30 feet in length and 14 feet high. It weighed 2,000 pounds, and required 2,400 eggs, 300 pounds of flour, 700 pounds of sugar, 50 gallons of cream and 700 quarts of strawberries. It was made for 4,000 persons who attended the farmers' and merchants' annual picnic near Seattle, Wash.

Julius Kramer has moved his stock of goods from Onaway to Gaylord, where he is now domiciled with his family. He is getting back toward "The Best Town in Michigan."

The Michigan Central Railroad Co., continues to send us good news. The rates for the Michigan State Fair at Pontiac is only $6.00 for the round trip. Sale dates 11 and 16, return 16th.

A young cyclone in Maple Forest the 5th inst. tore down a new tool shed and engine house on the Feldhauser farm and wrecked a new threshing machine and binder besides a string of fence.

Jasper West, a Crawford County pioneer, now of Wauson, Ohio is visiting old friends here. He would be glad to return for permanent residence, but our climate will not allow it.

Dr. Goetzinger, of Chicago, was with us the first of the week for a few days visit, which we enjoyed, but are almost sorry for he took his wife, our niece, away with him yesterday, and we had anticipated at least a month's longer stay for both of them.

A burglary was committed at the American House, Theo. Gendron's in Frederic, one night last week, and two arrests were made, but the parties were discharged on examination, as the justice did not deem the evidence sufficient to hold them for trial.

P. M. Hoyt has sold his cozy residence to L. Herrick, M. C. R. R. agent, and moved to a farm that he has purchased near Flint. Mr. Hoyt and his family will be missed from Crawford County, where they were pioneers and where he had gained the reputation of being one of the best if not the best farmer in the county. The Advance will follow them to their new home with best wishes for their continued happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. W. Becker went to Detroit the first of the week to be present at the wedding of their son, Dr. Sigurd Becker and Miss Clara Toepel, at St. Mary's church Wednesday evening. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple will leave today for this place by boat to Mackinaw, where they will make a brief stay.

S. B. Brott, on section 6, of the worthless stump lands of Beaver Creek has brought us samples of grain that would be hard to excel in the state.

About eight o'clock last Thursday evening the alarm of fire was sounded. The laundry of L. D. Tower was entirely consumed. The loss on machinery and fixtures $800 and $200 worth of clothing to be laundered with no insurance.

Frederic Items

Logs have been coming to the mill at the rate of thirty five cars a day. A wreck of two cars at the mill last week gave Mr. J. Wood a weeks rest.

Our town is getting awful, having two criminal arrests inside of 10 days. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw who were residents here fifteen years ago, are visiting her brother, Geo. Collins.

W. A. Coomer and family have returned from Bay City.

Miss Bishop of Fremont, is visiting Miss Laura Lewis.

Misses Lottie and M. Inglis took in the excursion to Mackinaw accompanied by Mr. Granger of Pinconning, last Sunday.

A number will attend the Grange picnic on the 17th at Portage Lake.

The Medicine Show is coming and gone, Miss Anna Jendron getting the watch and little Max Tobin getting the ring. It is strange what an amount of patent medicine a person will need when there are small prizes at the back of them.

SUPERIOR ABILITY OF NO VALUE WITHOUT THRIFT AND INDUSTRY

(By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.)

"I, myself, work hard and long."

This was the answer recently made by Premier Mussolini when asked for the secret of his accomplishments in Italy.

Go down the line of great business leaders in America today and ask them why they are succeeding. They could, it would be found, appropriate make use of Mussolini's words in reply.

Peter the Great who introduced western ideals of civilization in old Russia traveled as a domestic servant to an Ambassador and worked in the dock-yard of Holland and England.

He did this that he might learn the meaning of work. Before he could lead others along the lines of industry, he himself, like Mussolini, must know the advantage of working hard and long.

The late James B. Duke, a man of genius in the organization and development of a great business, discussing his own attainments, once said: "Any young man with common intelligence can succeed if he is willing to apply himself. Superior brains are not necessary. I have succeeded in business, not because I have more natural ability than many people who have not succeeded, but because I have applied myself harder and stuck to it longer. I know plenty of people who have failed to succeed in anything who have more brains than I, but they lacked application and determination. I had confidence in myself."

Not enough is said of the value of persistent industry. This is not to glorify drudgery. Hard work, to bring results, must be purposeful. We must work toward a definite goal—work intelligently. There is a vast difference between wasted effort and intelligent effort. Hard work in itself does not bring success but there can be no success without it. Industry and thrift are essential where progress is to be attained.

Is Thirty the Love Deadline?

James J. Montague was born in Maine City, Iowa, but was educated in Oregon. While there, he worked on the Morning Oregonian. Arthur Brisbane saw some of his editorials and made overtures which resulted in Mr. Montague's coming to New York. That was the beginning of seventeen years in the service of the Hearst organization, during which period Montague was managing editor of the New York Evening Journal, wrote a daily verse and still does under a heading he himself originated, "More Truth Than Poetry." He covered all the big stories, winding up with the peace conference. When Hearst resigned from the Hearst organization he became associated with a newspaper syndicate. In addition to this he writes for the Sunday papers a weekly humor story, and this series runs on a daily editorial. His file is by producing an occasional magazine story. Mr. Montague is over thirty, and is married.

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

Thackeray accounted for a famous British general's popularity with women by explaining that he allowed them to give him money. There is no devotion comparable with that which is engendered by the bestowing of favors. I have known elderly theatrical managers to bankrupt themselves trying vainly to make stars out of their wives. And the more money they lost the more ardent became their affection for the pretty little dumbbells, who never could learn to do anything but stand still and look beautiful.

If love means unselfish devotion—and it ought to—men who are past thirty are more capable of possessing it than men under thirty. And their capacity increases as they reach maturer years—which often are years of indifference. The youthful husband thinks a good deal about himself. When his "passions" once have lost their brutal force," as Tennyson said in a mean poem he wrote about a girl who refused him, he begins to wonder what kind of a break he is getting out of wedded life. He "looks out of the window" oftener than an older man does. He thinks tenderly of the girls he might have had, and is prone to imagine that they wouldn't have taken him as a matter of course so early in the game, and scolded him for leaving cigarette ashes around the house and spending so much time on the golf course.

After that he begins to feel sorry for himself, and the fine edge of the romance is over. But the life is something almost austere in the affection of a man of more advanced years, and there is no greater love than mother love. He is transported to think that this lovely creature—even though she were a spinster of thirty or more when he married her—has really consented to let him give her flowers, and take her to the theater, and sit patiently around modistes' shops while she tries on costumes. He thinks up little surprises to delight her. He gets out of the weekly poker event, and actually takes her around the golf course with him every day. I have yet to see a young man doing that more than a couple of times in a year.

Most young men are fairly swollen with conceit if, before attaining thirty, they have accumulated enough money to support a wife in reasonable comfort. Such a man wants her to agree with him, and understand him when he brings home the figures on the balance sheet, and tells her how the advice he gave the sales manager resulted in a record business for the year. He expects that she will be thrilled with all the shop talk which he can get no one else to listen to, and that she will even remain attentive when he relates the struggles of his early youth.

And when she yawns through his conversation, suggests going out to the theater or the movies, he begins to think that he is not appreciated, and she is no longer as beautiful or as intelligent in his eyes as she was in the days of the courtship. He may get used to her after that, and regard her with a sort of desperate tolerance, but it would be somewhat inaccurate to term that sort of feeling love.

The word "dote" means to love, and the word "dotard" means an old gentleman. Perhaps there is some etymological connection between them. Anyway, men who get married after thirty, while they are far more easily the victims of female fortune hunters, are far less likely to try to break out of the trap, and far more apt to glory in their fetters. When there is a break it is usually due to the lady, for she is always romantic, and seldom can help regretting that she didn't meet John Burry more a little earlier. About women, I am not so sure. Nobody is, or ever has been. Yet I know of a number of them who have married after thirty, and who still believe that little, ugly husbands have the physical attractiveness of a movie star, the strength of Gen. Tunney, and the mentality of all the world's greatest thinkers—including philosophers—rolled into one. It is the maternal instinct in them that makes them love the men they married and men, born of women, inherit maternal instincts too. That is what makes them ardent lovers after thirty, provided they marry girls who do not try to boss them, but continue to be clinging vines. Far be it from me to enter into an academic argument with such a scholar and observer as Mr. Will Durant. In default of equipment all I can say is that I believe he is wrong. His remark (© 1926 by the Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Pave Streets With Jewels

The idea of streets paved with jewels and precious stones may have its poetic appeal, but this practice has obvious disadvantages, from the utilitarian viewpoint. It seems that a state trust, operating a factory in Sverdlovsk (formerly Ekaterinburg) recently sold 160 tons of such precious stones as topaz, nephrite and malachite for a nominal price under the impression that the stones represented nothing but "old junk."

elbow. She broke this arm in the same place about twelve years ago.

day for registration in order to vote in the coming election. Better register if you wish to have the man in office that is your choice. People of Grayling Township may register at McCullough's Shoe Shop.

Mrs. John Speck and family left Tuesday for Detroit where they will make their home, joining Mr. Speck who has been employed there for some time. Mrs. Speck has made a most efficient librarian at the township library for some time and also took active part in the doings of the Woman's club. The family leave many warm friends in Grayling.

Capt. David Smith, husband of Bertha Eastman-Smith passed away at their home in Detroit yesterday morning of cancer. Although Mr.
Smith was known in Grayling, his wife was a former well known resident, and has the sympathy of many Grayling friends in her sorrow. Mr.
Smith had sailed the Lakes for years.

Mrs. C. G. Clippert and Mrs. C. R.
Keppert were hostesses to twenty-four ladies at the Gaylord Country Club Tuesday afternoon at a bridge luncheon. The afternoon was spent ing won by Mrs. Olaf Michelson, Mrs.

Harry Hanover of Ypsilanti and con-

A record-breaking crowd attended the fourth annual ball given by the 119th Hospital Company, at the school gymnasium last Saturday night. The party was very attractive in every detail, the decorations of red and white making a beautiful setting for the party. The Company's own band furnished the music and it was excellent, so say many of those who attended. This affair is looked forward to each year with much enthusiasm by not only the soldiers but the town people as well. The boys are to be congratulated on the fine party they arranged for their fourth annual ball.

St. Mary's fifth annual fair held last Thursday at the school gymnasium again proved a big success with a fine amount added to the church treasury. There was a large crowd at the supper and a still larger one at the dance that followed in the evening, when an orchestra from the Michigan National Guard camp furnished the music. The ladies of St.
Mary's church start in the middle of winter to plan their fair and besides their planning do their sewing so as not to have to do it during the warm weather. There are many willing workers and their untiring efforts make their fair during the summer the big success that it is. Mrs.
Marius Hanson was the general chairman of this year's fair and she also was the instigator of the Grayling cook book, which is delighting so many housewives with its tested recipes. Many of these have been sold, but the ladies have a supply left and should you wish one you may see any one of the ladies of St.
Mary's church. The Grayling cook book was the main feature this year and was an excellent idea. The

at the Officers' Club house Tuesday afternoon. The ladies of the camp and some of the Grayling ladies were as two vocal solos rendered by Mrs.

Doyle. Everyone present enjoyed the afternoon.

Grayling residents were suddenly awakened from their slumbers at about 4:40 o'clock Tuesday morning by the bombing at the military reservation, where the Reds and Blues of the M. N. G. were engaged in a sham battle. Some of our ex-soldiers said that it reminded them of the war days in France, only then the noise was more intense and continuous. The battle at the camp only lasted about a half hour. Some of the troops divided into two sections have been engaged in action such as would be carried out during wartime was the reason for the noise.

According to the Navy Recruiting Office of the Navy Recruiting Station, at Detroit, the records show that during the past fiscal year 1610 young men have applied at Detroit for enlistment in the Navy. Of this number 1153 were rejected due to mental and physical defects. Of the 457 who were accepted for enlistment, 16 were dropped after enlistment due to inaptitude and other causes. This elimination gives the Navy a high type of recruit from Michigan.

WEST BRANCH SOON TO HAVE
GOLF COURSE
West Branch residents are pushing forward their campaign for the construction of a golf course. Committees are at work and financial cooperation already reported indicates the success of the project.

The growing interest in golf throughout East Michigan has resulted recently in the construction of golf courses in many communities.
The game is so popular that the communities which lack a golf course, especially those which cater to tourists and resorters, may be severely handicapped in the future, according to those persons who keep in touch with the trend of recreational in-demands and requirements.

H. McNEVEN.

His Support in His Home City is Nearly Unanimous:

We, the undersigned, citizens of the City of Clare, Michigan, do hereby endorse the candidacy of our fellow-citizen Tony Achard for the office of State Senator, of the 28th District, to be voted upon at the coming Primary election September 4th.

From long acquaintanceship we are in a position to testify to our sincere belief in Mr. Achard's ability to successfully cope with the many serious legislative problems that face a member of the State Legislature. We also feel that Mr. Achard knows the needs of this District; and that if sent to Lansing every section of the District may always expect a fair and just representation.

Because of these facts we are publicly offering this endorsement so that every voter in our District may learn of the sentiments expressed by his neighbors at home.

ACTIVITIES OF CONSERVATION DEPT.

Lansing, Aug. 13.—One of nature's curiosities has recently come into the possession of the state of Michigan. A spring of water that measures 200 to 250 feet across, is 40 to 45 feet deep and has a constant temperature of 88 degrees Fahrenheit, is the latest feature to be added to the State's splendid chain of park properties. The spring is located on a 137 acre tract of land near Indian Lake in Schoolcraft County and was donated to the State by the Palma-Book estate of Detroit.

The spring is surrounded by deep forests, making it a beauty spot that is seldom matched anywhere. The hushed stillness of the forest, the mirror-like bosom of this body of crystal-clear water all add to its attractiveness. P. J. Hoffmaster, Superintendent of State Parks for the Conservation Department, testifying to the transparency of the water, says that a dime dropped in the spring can be readily followed by the eye until it comes to rest on the dazzling white sand bottom, 40 feet below. It is said that bits of printed matter that reach the sand can be read from the surface. The columns of water rising in the spring can be seen stirring the sands as they emerge from still greater depths.

The water is so cold that no living things such as fish, frogs or snakes can exist in it. Denizens of the water which find their way into the spring, in a short time become paralyzed with cold. The spring is, therefore, entirely free from organic matter.

Many pretty Indian legends are written around this piece of nature's handwork. The State plans to make a State Park of the territory, giving to Michigan another attractive link in its chain of summer recreation grounds.

Lansing, Aug. 13.—The Department of Conservation is continuing the building of nurseries which will be used to promote the rearing of fingerling trout. As rapidly as suitable sites are found and approved, the nurseries are being constructed. The Department in the past has specialized in the distribution of advanced fry but the present program is to change gradually to the point where fingerlings will be planted in preference to fry.

Lansing, Aug. 14.—Logging companies, jobbers and private individuals engaged in the logging business who have failed to live up to the State law in regard to disposal of slash within 100 feet of highways in the State may be haled into court at the end of another six week period. The Forest Fire Division of the State Conservation Department is making a careful check on all operations of this kind and prosecutions will be started against those who have not complied with the law. In many instances, companies have already piled and destroyed the slash by the roadside. Others are preparing to do so. Some concerns, however, prefer to wait until the Department instructs them to get busy. If the state officials had their way, all slash would be left piled until after the first snowfall and would be burned then. Reports have been coming into the offices to the effect that burning of the slash at this time of year has sometimes resulted in scared trees and sorry scenery near the highways.

Lansing, Aug. 14.—Governor Fred W. Green delivered the principal address at the dedication of the Muskegon State Park, August 8. Muskegon citizens have been greatly interested in the project and the Board of Commerce and other bodies of business men in the west-state city declared the dedication day a holiday. The tract consists of 1,000 acres of land, has a three mile frontage on Lake Michigan and one and one-half miles of frontage on Muskegon Lake. Thirty-five per cent of the area consists of moving sand dunes. The forest growth consists of maple, oak, hemlock, pine and other timber trees. Supt. of Parks F. J. Hoffmaster believes that this park is bound to be one of the most popular on the west side of the State. Its bathing beach is almost unrivalled, in his opinion. A cement road, 20 feet in width, leads through the park. This road is part of the scenic highway between Muskegon and Whitehall.
